REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING.

The sale of lots on a speculative basis is not as lively as it sometimes has been in the past, but there continues to be a healthy demand on the part of home-builders. At no time in our history have there been so many new buildings in course of construction as at present, and many others are reported as in prospect.

On Brand boulevard work is being pushed rapidly on the new brick addition to the Masonic Hall block, and the whole block when completed will certainly present an imposing appearance for a town of the size of Glendale. The Valley Club house on the corner of Third and the boulevard is well along in construction, the outside being about ready for the plaster, and Electrician Seaman has just completed the wiring of the interior; the whole job comprising fifteen circuits.

In Glendalia Park, Second and Brand boulevard, Mr. Hulmes' fine residence is being pushed forward as rapidly as a good force of mechanics can do the work. The same may be said of the adjoining structure being erected for Mr. J. A. Cole. Back of these two houses, on Orange street, Messrs. Holman and Campbell are erecting the first of three fine dwelling houses which they plan to put on this tract. On the west side of Central avenue, near Second, the new concrete residence of Mr. C. F. Parker is gradually assuming proportions which indicate that it will be something new in the architecture of our city, and will no doubt be an attractive feature of that neighborhood.

On the corner of the boulevard and Milford street Mr. R. C. Sternberg has the foundation laid for what promises to be a handsome residence.

Mr. J. A. Biren is building for himself a fine large bungalow on Lorrain street, east of Central avenue. It is one of the best specimens of the bungalow style of architecture that we have, and is being finished in a tasteful, up-to-date manner. On the Casa Verdugo villa tract Mrs. Sager has the foundation laid and lumber on the ground for a commodious cottage.

Mr. Ambrosini's fine residence on Fifth street, corner of L, is near completion. A rather unique and attractive feature of this house is the metal-ribbed beveled glass panels used in nearly all the windows and doors.

On C street, the elegant residence of Mr. F. W. McIntyre has just been plastered, and the interior finishing work will be begun at once. The effect of the immense cobblestones, seamed with black mortar, as used in the foundation and pillars, is very pleasing to the eye.

The new house of Mr. Garfield Jones, on C street, above Third, is being pushed along as fast as the careful work and precision of detail required by the builder will permit. The foundation of this building is of artificial stone and well illustrates the adaptability of the hollow concrete brick for this work. Next to this house Mr. E. D. Reynolds is constructing a commodious story and a half dwelling, the style of which promises to be in harmony with the attractive character of all the recently constructed residences on this street.

East of Verdugo road, on Third street, Mr. Llewellyn Andrews is erecting a neat story and a half residence, to cost probably about $2,500.

The bungalow of Mr. Stone, near the packing house in Lometa Park, is gradually nearing completion.

The residence being erected on L street, north of the Baptist Church, by Mr. E. H. Reese is going ahead rapidly.

Mr. W. E. Ransom has laid out his fine tract corner of Third street and Verdugo road and will have it on the market soon.

Mr. Eudermeihl, who has been stopping for some weeks at the Vertmont, has bought a large lot in the Riverdale tract and will build on the same soon.

Mr. Frank Sauer is breaking ground on Third street for a new residence adjoining the one he recently sold.

BIRTHDAY RECEPTION.

Some of the friends of Mrs. N. F. Reynolds tendered her a reception on the occasion of her seventy-fifth birthday last Saturday, which was a very enjoyable affair for all concerned.

In the afternoon a company of about thirty of her friends and relatives assembled at her residence on C street and enjoyed refreshments and social intercourse. Among those present from other places than Glendale were the following: Mr. and Mrs. Vail of Long Beach, Mr. and Mrs. Bruner, Mrs. Dimmick, Mr. Winfield Dimmick, Mrs. Chase, Mrs. Banks and Miss Dayton, of Los Angeles; from Tropico, Mrs. D. M. Stuart, Mrs. S. A. Ayres, Mrs. N. C. Burch and Mrs. Botts; Mrs. J. C. Thomas, Highland Park.

Aside from the visitors who were with her to make the day pass happily, Mrs. Reynolds was the recipient of several letters from Eastern friends as reminders of the occasion, among them a letter from a brother aged 90.

A number of friends who could not attend the afternoon reception called during the evening to congratulate Mrs. Reynolds upon having arrived at such an advanced milestone on life's journey, without having had to drop by the wayside any of her physical or mental faculties.

TRUSTEES' MEETING.

There were absent Trustees Porcher and Watson. Trustee Jennings was elected president pro tem. Demands was referred to the finance committee, as follows:

J. C. Jennings, for labor, $6; J. B. Cathcart, for grading Verdugo road and Second street, $44; Riggs & Sherer, printing and publishing, $18.

A communication was received from George W. Moyse, secretary of the Shriner reception committee, requesting that "Shriners' day," May 6, be declared a public holiday in Glendale. On motion, action was taken as requested.

Report of Street Superintendent on work done by E. D. Reynolds on B street was received and placed on file. In regard to acceptance of the map of "Glen Ina" tract, action was deferred with request to the public works committee to investigate and report at the next meeting. Map of the Wannemacher tract was accepted. The City Engineer reported that Fifth street, from the east line of Childs' tract to Verdugo road, has been properly dedicated according to the county records as a fifty-foot road.

Ordinance No. 45, "An ordinance establishing the grade of Fifth street on the southerly side thereof from a point 640 feet easterly of A street to Verdugo road," was taken up for a third reading and final passage, read and adopted. Adjourned.

SHRINER COMMITTEE.

There was a meeting of the enlarged committee on the reception of the Shriners on May 6 at Masonic Hall last Saturday afternoon. The finance committee reported an aggregate of about $525 pledged and a portion of it paid in. A communication was read from the proprietors of Casa Verdugo, offering to furnish 2,000 tamales, 2,000 enchiladas, with bread, butter and coffee or lemonade, for the sum of $500, the committee to furnish dishes, etc. After some discussion it was decided to accept the proposition, and the chairman was authorized to make a contract accordingly. The chairman was also instructed to secure badges for the reception committee to be used on the day of the reception. Mr. McClure was appointed chairman of a committee to consider the matter of furnishing badges to the visitors.

Mr. R. C. Sternberg was appointed a committee to take charge of the local transportation service (vehicles), the object of which is to see that visitors are shown around the valley. Every owner of a vehicle who will agree to use it on that day for this purpose is requested to communicate with Mr. Sternberg as soon as possible.

The secretary was instructed to request the Board of Trustees of the city of Glendale to declare May 6 next a holiday within the city limits, to be known as "Shriner day." Committee adjourned to meet this (Saturday) afternoon, at 4 o'clock.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

Percy Belmont is the latest reported personage to attack the President. Accuses the latter of using patronage to secure his ends.

Reports of business conditions throughout the country show unprecedented prosperity for the first three months of the year.

Goldfield mines still closed down owing to labor troubles. Strike inaugurated at Brisbee, Ariz., by Western Federation of Miners.

Main coast line of the Southern Pacific road to San Francisco opened for traffic, for the first time since it was interfered with by storms March 20.

Senator Foraker opens his campaign in Ohio, his object being to oppose the administration and prevent Ohio's indorsement of Taft for the Presidential nomination.

Prof. Pickering of Harvard announces the discovery of the fact that the light of the full moon is twelve times that of the new moon. The proportion has heretofore been called six to one.

The Thaw case comes to a conclusion; is now in the hands of the jury, with prospects good for a disagreement. Both Delmas and Jerome made very strong appeals in summing up. Delmas eloquent; Jerome logical.

Attorney General Stead of Illinois submits an opinion to Governor Dineen to the effect that the State has no recourse against Harriman for the alleged wrecking of the Chicago & Alton Company. Profits of his syndicate, nearly fifteen millions on the deal.

Mrs. Lee A. McConnell, her daughter Ruth and a schoolmate from Los Angeles spent Monday with her father, J. L. Overton, and relatives at Glendale. As Mrs. McConnell had recently returned from a visit to Hawaii, the table on this occasion bore, among other viands, pineapples, rice, coffee and other Hawaiian products. Mrs. McConnell while on her tour made a choice collection of over 100 pictures of Sandwich Island scenery, those of the volcano and its crater being particularly interesting. She was one of the passengers on the Ohio, the Chamber of Commerce excursion steamer, and had a very enjoyable trip, although the service on the steamer was not as perfect as it might have been.

The members of the W. C. T. U. met on Friday afternoon, April 5, at the commodious residence of Mrs. Sexton on Sixth street. A very profitable meeting was held. The president, Mrs. W. B. Gaylord; Mmes. C. O. Pulliam and M. E. Harn were sent as delegates to the County Convention, with Mrs. Sexton and Miss Newhall alternates. The convention will be held in Los Angeles April 16, 17 and 18. It is earnestly desired that all members attend at least a part of the time, as it will be very profitable as well as entertaining. It will be held in the Seventh Street United Presbyterian Church, corner of Ninth and Figueroa streets.

This Paper is a Member of the Los Angeles County Press Association.

They have in the Agricultural Department at Washington, a machine to smoke cigars. Now, if they will get a machine to drink the whiskey, the Prohibitionists can go out of business.

A scientist has made the discovery that baldness is caused by improper breathing. This is another muck-rake attack on the patent medicine man and the bald headed barber with a "remedy."

According to a special census report for 1906 compiled by the census bureau at Washington, the population of the United States is 83,941,510. This is an increase of 7,946,935 over the count of 1900. Of this number, New York city is credited with 4,113,045; Chicago, 2,049,185, and Philadelphia, 1,441,753.

We notice in the "boiler plate" of some of our contemporaries, the startling announcement that "there are now nearly 80,000,000 more people in continental United States than there were six years ago." Then we are informed that the population last year was 83,941,570, so we are compelled to infer that figures will lie, even in boiler plate!

The Rev. R. J. Campbell, pastor of the City Temple (Congregationalist) London, has stirred up a great commotion in the religious world, and is spoken of as the author of a "New Theology." He claims that he has "become the most unpopular man in England;" but from what we glean of his preaching and teaching, we should judge that he is one of those young men who take themselves too seriously, and imagine themselves inspired when they are only impelled.

Our friend and neighbor, M. Adrian King, of Sixth street, city limits, and of whom we have heard nothing since the publication in the Los Angeles Times of that harrowing tale of the death of his dog, has bobbed up serenely before the grand jury in San Francisco. A special dispatch to the Times, dated April 8th, states that Mr. King on that date materially strengthened, by his testimony, the cause of the prosecution in the Home Telephone case and gave Mr. Heney valuable information. In the next column, however, we note an Associated Press dispatch, which says that Mr. King was among the witnesses present, but not called upon, altho he may be later.

The Associated Press is generally reliable; and we are wondering how the special correspondent got the testimony that Mr. King is to impart to Mr. Heney, when the latter gentleman taps him.

Would Mr. King talk for publication? Perish the thought! But if he should get before the San Francisco grand jury, that overworked body of useful citizens will accumulate information so rapidly that the shorthand reporters will want to take to the woods!

The Shriners are Coming

The Shriners are coming in splendid array;
I see their banners and hear them shout.
They are drawing nearer day by day;
They'll catch us asleep if we don't watch out!

On foot and on horseback, single, in pairs,
On steam car, on mule back and trolley;
How sad it would be to be caught unawares,
How we should repent of our folly!

The Shriners are coming! The tread of the host
Is shaking the earth as they daily draw nearer;
It would be very queer should they come to the coast
And find us unready—what indeed could be queerer?

The Shriners are coming! Now let us prepare
To take in the stranger who comes from afar.
We may catch an angel, perhaps millionaire;
There are mighty good chances where Shriner folk are!

Taxation

Governor Pardee deserves better of the state of California, than he has received in commendation. He started a number of reforms, which altho not brought to fruition during his administration, were a move in the right direction, and will bear good fruit. Perhaps one of the most commendable of his acts was the appointment of a hold-over committee on Revenue and Taxation. This committee adopted the recommendation of Prof. Carl Plehn, of the University of California, an expert on economics, and prepared a constitutional amendment which will be submitted to the voters a year and a half hence, and should receive their enthusiastic support.

Under the present system, the taxes for state purposes are collected by the counties and equalized by the Board of Equalization; a cumbrous and unsatisfactory system which has invariably resulted in Los Angeles county paying what is generally considered as more than her share for state purposes.

The taxes collected in California at present are almost entirely from real estate, personal property not paying anything like its just proportion. A special corporation tax was levied two years ago, consisting of ten dollars per annum on every corporation doing business in the state. At the special legislative session last fall this tax was doubled, so that corporations do not get off so easily as they did. But previous to the levying of this special tax, they paid almost nothing into the state treasury.

If the proposed system is adopted, the income of the state from corporations will be greatly increased. It is thought that by the change, holders of realty will find their taxes decreased about 30 cents on the hundred dollars valuation. It is proposed that the corporations (of which there are about 45,000 in the state) shall pay all the state taxes, leaving the counties to collect for themselves.

In making its report, the commission states that taxes now paid by farmers average 10 per cent of their annual income, while manufacturers pay only 2 per cent. According to the assessor's books, the personal property of the state amounts to only two-thirds as much as it did thirty years ago.

NEWSINGS AND MUSINGS.

By a Glendalian in New York.

Glendale must be on the alert. New York is in the running for the Spotless Town prize. "The city beautiful" is its inspiring battle-cry. There have been times in the past when no one would have believed such an assertion; and even now we have doubting Thomases and cynics who won't believe even the promise of Spring until she delivers the goods, and who will give no absolution to poor old Frisco in sackcloth and ashes until Ruef is safely inside—the man behind the bars. But New York is in earnest this time. Recently in the New York Times appeared some magnificent pictures of central avenues parked and terraced, befountained and adorned as they might, could, would and should be, which have greatly stimulated the hopes and fancies of old residents, who always have thought it needed but genius to transform our city prose into a Parisian romance. New York is now vaster, richer, growing faster than ever; her population well over four millions, (good estimators say nearer five), the coming if not the actual money center of the nations, the only legitimate successor of London as the commercial metropolis of the globe. Her years and responsibilities are bringing the inevitable wisdom that finds its roots in the follies and mistakes of ignorance and immaturity. Here are a few straws that show how the wind blows around the tall towers of New Gotham. New York has a few saloons; but it is not her fault, for they were there (some of them) before she was in the old Dutch days, as poor old Rip Van Winkle's history testifieth. The trouble was these saloons were doing business all night in the face of a midnight closing law. City Magistrate Whitman started out about 2 a. m. and in person raided several flagrant flouters of the law, opened a court before 3 a. m. in the nearest police station, at which delinquent officers, offending bar gentry and proprietors were arraigned like ordinary malefactors, to their and everybody's undiluted amazement. The reporters helped him, and next morning, like Byron or Schmitz, he woke to find himself famous. Since then he has acquired the raiding habit, swooping down in some remote unsuspecting precinct and striking like the lightning. No one is safe in that business after midnight, so the newspapers (as well as the New York Journal) have big black headlines reading, "Saloons Close at Midnight," but the type is none too large for the deep import of those words—to some people. Glendalians, of course, have no other interest in such a fact than as it goes to show the drift of a great world center to methods which Glendale is proud to uphold. Which applies also to the present police ban on gambling and poolrooms in this city. The mania for "picking the winner" dies hard, however, and every now and again a Monaco outfit or a poolroom in full blast is unearthed in some quiet residence street where least expected. The Bowery lodging-houses, which have exhaled their fame, if not their odors, to the four points of the compass, are now to be brought in line. From now on the astonished lodgers at ten cents per are faced with the probability of having to sleep on a clean sheet, of walking on scrubbed floors, of using a bath and hot water and getting accustomed to odors such as mother used to raise on washing day. Since the last earthquake nothing has quite so got on the nerves of the Bowery as this latest ukase. If it had been issued on April 1 it would have been considered the richest joke ever made on that now fast waning paradise of pugs, parasites and puddenheads. But hardly less drastic is the new law against unnecessary and disturbing noises, which hereafter are penal nuisances, especially the long drawn out siren blasts and the nerve-racking toot, toot and again toot of the river boats or the locomotives in the very short "stilly night" of New York. This achievement is the result of a long and plucky crusade led by and for some time composed solely of a lady, one Mrs. Rice, to whom all honor. Success has reaped its usual reward; the very best people of New York now being proud to appear in print as supporters of the anti-noise movement, which is stretching out to cover all discordant sounds; ultimately, I hope, even those that annoy the mass of New York flat dwellers, such as snoring in the bass clef, the abuse of a piano and the use of phonographs in a dwelling house, feline yowling, singing lessons and dog barking after 10 p. m. Terrible tales of New York's elevated, street car and subway transportation are in vogue throughout the land, and I admit it would almost need a Baron Munchausen to beat the facts. (Still, I am from Los Angeles, and may be prejudiced by comparisons.) This is all coming to an end, for Shonts, don't you know, direct from the Isthmus, is now in charge. He has been studying conditions at first hand for weeks; has received deputations of all kinds from young business maidens to the sedatest of old strap-hangers and the rampagest of chronic kickers—has listened to them all and actually succeeded in causing hope to sprout where for many a year despair or Christian resignation has alone prevailed. The Canal is a small thing compared to the control and proper handling of the human flood that has two high tides a day which three times the present means of transport would barely contain. Even Los Angeles squeezed between two great rivers, always wet at the top, might have less occasion to be so complacent as she is about her urban and inter-urban service. Shonts will get there all right, and in due time will surely get into the Hall of Fame, where his name will be kept bright for many a year. One real asset towards the City Beautiful is the proven practicability of maintaining a clear atmosphere in spite of an infinite conglomeration of houses and factories with chimneys in full blast for several months during the winter. Anthracite and its compulsory use is the solution of the puzzle which so agreeably exercises the wits of a newcomer who has had reason to always associate big towns with smoke. Here the writer from the very heart of Manhattan has seen glorious sunsets, the pearly moon riding high and the blazoned stars, (sunrise only by hearsay) very much as they appear to the belated Glendalian as he is returning from a sick call or a protracted lodge meeting. But I see New York reforms still in a long list before me, while my allotted space is long overshot, so with the editor's leave, the taffy-pulling will continue in our next.

ORANGE SHIPMENTS.

This is a busy time at the packing houses. All of them are getting oranges off as fast as cars can be procured. The C. C. U. has experienced difficulty in procuring packers as well as cars. They now have two carloads of oranges and one of lemons ready for shipment, and are uncertain as to whether the cars can be obtained for shipping them promptly. There have been about fifteen carloads of oranges sent out by these shippers, principally from the orchard of C. E. Thom.

The Sparr Fruit Company has sent out over twenty cars, and also has two or three carloads of lemons and oranges ready for shipment. They are having no serious shortage of cars at present, and the force has been working nights and Sundays.

F. P. Corson is handling the fruit from the Ross orchard, and reports having had no serious trouble as to cars or help. The navels have all gone forward and Malta bloods are now being packed.

The total output from these orchards will probably be about fifty carloads, of which one-half has been shipped. Nearly one-half of the remainder are Valencias, which will not be shipped before the latter part of next month. They have also put out about ten carloads of lemons since the first of January and are starting to pick again. Pinkham & McKevatt have shipped about thirty cars of navels and average about six cars of lemons per month. They will probably have twenty more carloads of navels and a few cars of the later varieties. They have had some trouble procuring cars, but are well supplied at present and expect the car famine to be relieved in a few days by the opening up of the Salt Lake system to traffic. Prices continue satisfactory, but there is said to be a considerable portion of the Riverside crop to be moved yet, and there is some danger that the rush of fruit forward, now that the weather is good and cars available, may cause something of a slump in the near future.

LA CRESCENTA.

Mr. Allison Aylesworth leaves Friday for Muskogee, I. T., to look after business interests there.

The Badgely ranch, consisting of six acres, improved with a small frame house, was purchased last week by Mr. James Smith.

Mr. Fleming, in trying to pass a furniture van in a narrow place on the road, tipped his buggy and was thrown to the ground, dislocating one shoulder. He was driven to Glendale, where Dr. Chase reduced the dislocation.

Mr. Anderson, a Glendale contractor, was up a few days ago looking over the ground preparatory to drawing plans for Miss Banning's new bungalow. A swimming pool and an enclosed court are among the features planned

A new grocery store is to be opened by Mr. Geo. B. Thompson on the corner of Michigan and Los Angeles avenues. Mr. James Smith, the owner of the store building, will put it at once in good repair and add a barn to the other buildings. There is even talk of another store near the site of the old one just sold by Mr. Pleukharp.

Local Happenings

Mrs. C. R. Norton has gone to Santa Ana, to remain with friends over Sunday.

Capt. H. H. Hall, who formelry resided on Verdugo Road, visited Glendale Thursday.

Mrs. A. W. Tower entertained Mrs. Alfred Dove and Mrs. Ross Boyd of Los Angeles, at dinner Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Evans and daughter Cyrelle, former residents of Glendale, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Patterson of B street.

Mrs. Morgan, the wife of a prominent Congregational minister of Wisconsin, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Overton, for a day during the early part of the week.

Miss Emma Cox and Mrs. James Whitaker, of Highland Park, with Mrs. Kimball of Central Avenue, were the guests of Mesdames J. L. and H. M. Overton, Wednesday last.

Mr. C. J. Fox who was formerly a large land owner on the eastern side of town and still has a small acreage on Fourth street east of Verdugo Road, was in town Tuesday last.

The Bank of Glendale has added a Saving Department and will pay four per cent on Savings Deposits left six months or more and will compound the same semi-annually, January, 1st and July, 1st. One Dollar will start an account.

The monthly social of the Baptist Young Peoples Association, was held at the residence of Mrs. Dolly Beers, Third and Mary streets, Wednesday evening. The house was prettily decorated; about fifty guest were present and spent a very enjoyable evening.

Dr. Margaret Lewis, who has spent serveral years as a missionary in India, is stopping at the Hotel Glendale, as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Bartlett. Dr. Lewis will retura to her missionary work after the expiration of the two years vacation which she is now enjoying. She has with her a little Indian girl, whose quaint appearance upon our streets has attracted attention for a few days past.

At the Presbyterian church last Sabbath, J. E. Colvin was ordained and installed as an elder. Byron Clark was also installed as an elder, thus increasing the session from four to six members. J. E. Colvin was immediately put in the harness and spent all day Wednesday at Immanuel church as the delegate of the session at Presbytery. To-morrow will be the quarterly communion season, and the new individual communion service will be used for the first time.

Railroad Gossip

Rumor, apparently well founded, has it that high officials of the Pacific Electric Railway Company, which our readers will recognize as being the same company that controls the Santa Monica-Hollywood line, formerly owned largely by Clark and Sherman, visited Glendale last week. It is said that they looked over the line all the way from Glendale to the Devil's Gate, beyond La Crescenta, where the Salt Lake track enters the arroyo, and were greatly impressed with the section.

It is generally understood that Mr. Harriman controls the Pacific Electric, as well as the Salt Lake company. It will therefore be apparent that there is at least a thought wave in the air that has found lodgement in the thinkers of one or more persons of influence in connection with these two companies, and that it may eventually materialize into action in a manner that will be of immense advantage to this section.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB'S RECIPROCITY DAY

Never dawned a fairer day beneath a flawless Southern California sky, blue-domed above fragrant orchards, than that which greeted the Tuesday Afternoon Club on the occasion of the second Reciprocity and Flower Day.

The I. O. O. F. Hall was transformed into a veritable bower of loveliness, under the artistic guidance of Miss Ruth Byram, chairman of the Flower Day department. Masses of beautiful white roses, tall, graceful callas and pure white stocks formed the background of the rostrum; jardinieres filled with marguerites were arranged about the entire room with charming effect, while smilax, ferns and the pepper boughs were intertwined among the sweet white blossoms. Prominent, too, was the California poppy, the only color used in the floral decoration.

In the rear of the hall was the table from which punch was served throughout the afternoon. Its bowls of roses and tracery of smilax was exceedingly pretty. Mrs. Alexander Mitchell had charge of the program for the day, and she proved a hostess of exceptional ability. With her in the receiving line were Mmes. Wells, Lamson, Goode, Witham, Blackburn, Church, Fraley and Miss Helen McIntyre, all handsomely gowned and full of hospitality. The ushers were daintily attired little girls, who most gracefully performed their duties. They were Lucile Parker, Helen Lamson, May Church, Elsie Church, Evelyn Ryan and Bernice Williams.

The club guests included the officers from the following clubs: Galpin Shakespeare, Friday Morning, Ebell, Monrovia, Cosmos, District Federation, Philomath, Highland Park Ebell, Tropico and Eagle Rock.

When the time for opening the program arrived Mrs. Edgar W. Pack, president of the club, sounded the gavel and announced the first number—piano solo by Miss Emma Williams, rendered most beautifully and highly appreciated. The president then gave the address of welcome, in which she showed the essentials of the ideal club to be education, sympathy, feeling with, not for, others, enthusiasm, in all things guided by reason rather than the rosy flow of sentiment. She said: "I feel to-day that as we welcome you to our reciprocity gathering, you bring to us these essentials of the ideal club, the motto of which might be, 'Each for all, all for each.'" The address was closed with a quotation from Mathew Arnold, "If ever the world sees a time when women shall come together purely and simply for the benefit of mankind, it will be a power such as the world has never known."

The response to the address of welcome was given by Mrs. Fitz-Gerald, first vice president of the Ebell Club. She brought greetings and good wishes for a successful reciprocity meeting from the Ebell. Her remarks sparkled with wit and brilliancy as she depicted various sides of club life, showing its value in the home, in society and civic improvements.

Prof. Edward Fuller in a masterly way rendered a piano solo, which was very much enjoyed by all.

A symposium, "Reciprocity," was responded to by members of the different clubs present. The thoughts presented showed the gradual growth of club life in all the different lines of work undertaken, also the benefits derived from this interchange of ideas in such conferences.

Mrs. Harrison of Los Angeles sang two numbers in a voice of remarkable sweetness.

Miss Edith Harris of the Cummock School of Expression gave a reading, showing her to be a reader of great promise.

Mr. F. C. Hezmalhalch, Glendale's talented tenor, sang in his usual finished style. Mrs. Boynton of the Friday Morning Club read a paper on "Duty of Happiness." To give a brief synopsis of this charming talk would utterly fail to do the speaker justice, for when she had finished the faces of her hearers radiated the happiness of which she spoke. Mrs. Boynton shall be gladly welcomed again, not only for the valuable paper given, but for her own pleasing personality.

Miss Wenger, a contralto, whom Glendale is proud to claim, was generously applauded as she came forward and charmed her audience with her sweet song.

The accompanists for the afternoon were Miss Wells of Los Angeles, Mrs. Moyse and Miss Whitaker.

Mrs. Florence Collins Porter, president of the District Federation, honored the occasion by her presence. This is the first time a district president has honored the Tuesday Afternoon Club, her duties being so arduous and so many demands upon her time that it becomes difficult to secure her presence. Her address was received with rapt attention, and in all her remarks she showed herself to be a woman of great talent, thoroughly conversant with the sections of club work over which she presides. She spoke of a new branch of work, that of philanthropy, which was created at Bakersfield in February, and urged all clubs to take up this subject, for it is one of supreme importance. She congratulated the club on the fine attendance of representative clubs and the air of hospitality that was evident. Mrs. E. F. Parker, in a most graceful manner moved that a rising vote of thanks be given all those who had so delightfully contributed to the afternoon's entertainment.

Delicious refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed by all.

The memory of this day will linger long in the hearts and minds of those who were privileged to enjoy it.

M. E. CHURCH NOTES.

Our Sabbath school continues to make a splendid growth. There were 187 present last Sabbath.

Dr. J. C. W. Coxe preached a splendid sermon Sabbath morning, much to the delight of a large congregation that had assembled without knowing the doctor was to be present.

Prof. Packard did fine work with the choir, who are singing splendidly.

By special request the choir repeated the anthem of a week before, "If a Man Die, Shall He Live Again?" which was well received.

The pastor preached in the evening from the subject, "Shall Continued Consciousness Be Experienced After Death?" This fact is strongly assured by reason and scripture.

The League was led by Rev. George R. Graff, with great profit to all present.

The W. F. M. S. held an interesting meeting Tuesday afternoon. There is much enthusiasm in the society over the coming of the convention that is to meet in our church in May. About 75 delegates are expected.

The pastor will preach on the coming Sabbath on "Witnessing," and in the evening on the condition of a great general. Good music. Cordial welcome.

Work for the City Marshal

There is considerable complaint in some quarters about bicycle riding on sidewalks. Along the Verdugo Road, particularly, there seems to be good foundation for such complaints. At the corner of Verdugo Road and Fourth street two or three accidents have occurred to pedestrians who have been run into by reckless boys who can't find room in the road for the bicycles they ride.

If our city marshal should take a notion to get busy and make one or two arrests, the effect would probably be very beneficial. That he is liable to do this at any time, should be borne in mind by the offenders herein alluded to. The public in general should be aware of the fact that this officer has full power to make arrests of anyone caught in the act of breaking any of the city ordinances. He does not have to swear out a complaint or go thro any preliminary; it is only necessary that he should detect the offender in the act of breaking the law to be justified in the arrest. This applies to such other offenders as those who dump garbage in the city limits, discharge firearms or act contrary to any of the ordinances that the city has adopted. By and by, when we grow a little more potent, we shall have to see if the automobile fiend who drives his machine whizzing along our streets, is not also amenable to the law.

We still have a number of copies of the Anniversary Number of the News which we would like to dispose of . . . Just the thing to send to your friends "back east."

Price, 5 cents each; in quantities of 100 or more, 3 cents each

Our Streets

The Verdugo Road within the city limits has been graded up by Street Superintendent Sinclair and is now much improved by the work done, altho it is, of course, of a temporary character.

Contractor Mock has been pushing the work on Fourth street and Glendele avenue, the cement work being nearly completed on Fourth street and well under way on the avenue. J street is being graded on both sides of Fourth street. Fifth street east of Glendale avenue is in a fair way to be put in first-class condition.

The Piano Sale

The piano sale at the Glendale Furniture Store during the past week, attracted considerable interest. The managers of the enterprise express their entire satisfaction with the results of their experiment, as sales have been good and the prospects of further business is very encouraging. They will return to Glendale again with a good impression of our town.

Musicale

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Presbyterian church is preparing to give a musicale at Masonic Hall, Friday evening, April 26th, which will be one of the events of the season. Among those taking part in the program will be Mrs. Lillian H. Fruhling, Miss Jennie Richards, Mrs. Wickersham (formerly of Glendale), Mr. Frank Wallace and Mr. Walter Barclay.

Board of Trade Meeting

Regular meeting this evening at city hall. Everybody come.

NONSENSE RHYMES.

They are grafting in Chicago,
And they're grafting in New York;
They're grafting all around the world
From Shanghai unto Cork.
The butcher is a grafter, too,
He sells us beef for pork!

The grocer sands his sugar
And he waters gasoline,
And when you ask him for leaflard,
He sells you grease-a-tine.
You fondly think you're fully ripe,
The grocer knows you're green!

The pure food law is all a farce—
The labels are a lie,
The printer is the only man
Who doesn't care for pi.
And all the world is grafting now,
Excepting you and I!

Excepting you and I, good friend,
We'll still be strong and true,
And help the old world on its course
With higher things in view.
At least I'm sure that I'm all right,
I'm not so sure of you!

J. C. S.

VARIATION IN RAINFALL.

As showing the remarkable variation in quantity of the rainfall within a radius of twenty miles in this county, there has been at Sierra Madre at fall of 39.19 inches; while at Hollywood, for the same time, the precipitation measures 20.65. We have no accurate record for Glendale, but we are probably in the Hollywood class.

THE NEW GAME LAW—BIRDS.

Section 637a now reads: "Every person who shall at any time hunt, shoot, shoot at, pursue, take, kill or destroy, buy, sell, give away, or have in his possession except upon a written permit from the fish commissioners, for the purpose of propagation or for education or scientific purposes, any meadow lark, robin, or any wild bird, living or dead, or any part of any dead wild bird, or who shall rob the nest, or take, sell or offer for sale or destroy the eggs of any meadow lark, robin, or of any wild bird, is guilty of a misdemeanor; provided that nothing in this section shall prohibit the killing of a meadow lark, robin, or other wild bird by the owner or tenant of any premises where such bird is found destroying berries, fruit or crops growing on such premises, but the birds so killed shall not be shipped or sold. The English sparrow, sharp-shinned hawk, Cooper's hawk, duck hawk, great horned owl, bluejay, butcher bird, house finch (known also as the California linet), wild pigeon, all fish-eating birds, except sea-gulls and the blue and white crane or heron, and all birds otherwise protected by the provisions of this code, are not included among the birds protected by this section."

TELE-PHOTOGRAPHY.

In the Times Magazine of the issue of March 31, are presented a series of very fine mountain views, all in the snow, one of which is specially interesting. It is a grand expanse of "Old Baldy," more than we ever see from any one point on level ground; and it is said to be taken "with a tele-photo lens from Mt. Wilson." What is such a lens—One that can take pictures of objects far away. In describing the Bruce Photographic Telescope recently we said that two smaller tubes, fixed in the same framework with the large one which is used in stellar photography, were used for other purposes. Not until now was it clear what these other purposes might be; but evidently one of them is to do just such work as this.

It would seem that Prof. Ellerman may photograph anything that he can see, no matter how far away it may be.

In the same Times Magazine, on the first page, a short article is reprinted from Rene Backe, in The Reader, describing some wonderful apparatus, and most delicate work done therewith, which is located on Mt. Whitney.

The description is interesting; and accurate also, except that Rene Bache was not familiar enough with the geography of California. He should have said it was on Mt. Wilson. H. N. H.

PANAMA CANAL.

From an article by Rev. Francis E. Clark, who recently visited Panama, we gleaned a few interesting facts not generally known. There are thirty thousand laborers at work on the canal, which will be about 48 miles long. He speaks of pleasant surprises, particularly as to the climate and the healthfulness of the isthmus. February in particular was a very pleasant month and the ratio of cases on the sick list, is only 30 to the thousand, and not many cases serious. This excellent showing is due to the triumph of science in its great discovery of the fact that the yellow fever pestilence is spread by the mosquito, and that the insect is being exterminated by every means known to science, while the people have learned to protect themselves as from a deadly enemy. As to the progress of the work, Dr. Clark sums it up as follows:

"Almost eight hundred thousand cubic yards of dirt and rock are now removed every month, and the rate of excavation will soon be doubled.

"In less than ten years, unless all signs fail, two great lakes, more than thirty miles in length, will occupy the middle of the Canal zone; at either end will be a wide, deep, but comparatively short canal. By mears of enormous locks the biggest leviathans of the sea will be lifted up to the lakes at either end, and dropped down to the sea-level again when their short fresh-water voyage is completed."

R. G. Dun & Co.'s Review of Trade Conditions for March in So. California

The first three months of the current year have been months of great prosperity throughout the whole country, the volume of business showing a decided increase over the first quarter of 1906. In our immediate district reports from all sections tell of prosperity and progress in every line of endeavor—more factories established, more mining camps opening, more orchards planted. Nurserymen report unusual demand for citrus and walnut stock. It has been a record-breaking year for the planting of fruit trees.

The heavy and constant rains have retarded farming operations. It is estimated only one-half usual acreage will be put into late cereals. Sugar beet planting has been curtailed, but unused beet land will probably be planted to beans or corn. The wet winter has caused serious damage to apricot orchards and inconvenienced shippers, but has filled the sources of our water supplies, storing up surplus for time of need. A wet season in the long run has always proved most advantageous for Southern California.

The citrus crop this season is proving a good money maker. March market conditions were never better. Shipments have been hampered to some extent by washouts and car shortage, but this fact seems to have worked to benefit the growers. To April 7th, about 1200 cars less have gone forward than last year to same date, but this condition has been offset by absence of market gluts and resulting high auction prices. Prices have ranged high all the time, reaching $4.20 as highest point. Navels are bringing $2.00 orchard run f. o. b. Orders are plentiful and held at $2.35 to $2.50 for extra fancy. Lemons are in good demand, bringing fine prices, quoted $3.25 f. o. b., few going to auction.

Prospects are that sugar campaign will be a short one at Oxnard, as less than one-third usual acreage has been put into beets in that district The loss to deciduous fruit crop by recent storms cannot be estimated with any degree of certainty, but there is scarcely a doabt that apricots suffered severely. In some districts the crop is practically ruined. Peaches were damaged to some extent, but a fair crop is looked for. Prospects for other fruit crops are good. Bean market has lost its apathy by reason of floooding of the river growing districts, and prices for all varieties except limas have advanced sharply and are firm at higher quotations.

Business is not being forced in cured fruit market, either by buyer or seller. The few holders of apricots are not offering spot goods at any price. Peaches are not so firm, quoted down to 10 cents for choice. Supplies of spot raisins on coast are nearly exhausted; seeded have advanced to 10½ cents; options are being taken for new crop at 4½ cents

The output of olives, both green and ripe, also oil, will be smaller than for several seasons. Prices have advanced.

Petroleum industry continues active, the production reaching 150,000 barrels daily. The demand is growing and price of oil increasing. Locally business in all lines keeps up good par, with every assurance of present activity being maintained well into the summer.

There is plenty of money, but commercial demands are so strong, rates are a trifle higher for real estate transactions. Bank clearings for March show gain of nearly three millions over same month last year, and postal receipts show gain of 20 per cent for same month. Building permits were issued to value of $1,273,156, which was considerably below last year's March record. This is due to increased cost of building materials.

Failures for the month, 17. Liabilities, $28,000; assets, $10,000. Same month last year, 22 failures. Liabilities, $80,000; assets, $47,000.

In making up an overcrowded paper last week, our comment upon the case of Dr. Garrett, who was ordered by an annonymons committee to leave Glendale, was crowded out. We will revert to the subject just now, to say in brief that we do not believe that the people of Glendale will permit any self-constituted commettee (of one) to run any well behaved citizen out of town because of any question of complexion or kink of the hair. This is an enlightened portion of the "land of the free" and we do not want any stain upon our reputation by any narrow minded victim of prejudice, who works anonymously or otherwise.

Miss Anna Schneider arrived in Glendale, Saturday morning after an exstended trip including the principal cities of the east and Canada. On her way back she visited her mother, brother and sister at Lake Geneva, Wis., the place of her birth. Lake Geneva is known to be one the most beautiful lakes in the state, being ten miles long and two miles wide. Miss Schneider came to California a little over a year ago with her brother Paul for her health and having completely recovered she can not speak too highly of this section.

DISSOLUTION OF PARTNERSHIP.

Notice is hereby given that the partnership heretofore existing between E. K. Grant, Llewellyn Andrews and Joshua Andrews, under the firm name of the Glendale Planing Mill, is hereby dissolved by mutual consent. E. K. Grant retires from the partnership and the business will hereafter be carried on by Llewellyn Andrews and Joshua Andrews under the title of the Glendale Planing Mill.

E. K. Grant,
Llewellyn Andrews,
Joshua Andrews.

Glendale, March 20th, 1907.

Mr. George Sanborn, who recently visited his brother, Mr. J. N. Sanborn, here and who returned to his home at Yuba City, just in time to experience the discomforts of the unprecedented floods at that place, writes back that conditions are still very much unsettled; railroads not to be depended on, and in order to get to his mines up in the mountains, he had a trip of thirty miles on snowshoes in prospect.

A LITTLE TALK ON PRICES!

Whether you trade with us or other grocers, don't feel "sore" if some of the articles come to you at a slight advance in price over your former purchases. Grocers to-day are doing business at a heavier expense and on a smaller margin of profit than ever before, due to the era of prosperity prevailing. Manufacturers and packers are advancing everything, and if we do not make some slight advances the condition will soon develop wherein we cannot exist; but we do not want you to feel that it is an effort to "cinch" you, but it is just a plain proposition of

TROPICO

W. B. Pratt has been in attendance at the Soldiers' Reunion at Santa Barbara this week.

Miss Alice Silsbee of Los Angeles is the guest of Mrs. Frank Graves of Columbus drive.

Mr. Frank Ewing of Yuma was the guest of his sister, Mrs. W. A. Thompson, the past week.

Mrs. Shondy and son have moved from the Bradley cottage to their own home on Palmer avenue.

Mrs. Alfred Engelhardt entertained as her house guest the past week her sister, Mrs. John Carter of Los Angeles.

Miss Edna Hughes of Elizabeth Lake is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Joseph H. Webster, at charming "Ivy Nook."

Miss Etta Barber of Los Angeles, a former resident of Tropico, was the guest of Miss Mildred Ayres the past week.

Mrs. Clyde Frost and young son Donald of San Jose are the guests of Mrs. Frost's sister, Mrs. Charles Murray, at "The Snuggery."

Miss Ida Meyers of Los Angeles, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Meyers of "Beth-Eden," has returned home.

Mrs. James Maxwell, who sustained a severe accident Saturday morning while engaged in her flower garden, is reported as somewhat improved.

Valentine Abarta has bought a lot on Boynton avenue in the Boynton tract, which he will improve immediately with the intention of making it his home.

Dr. Gorman has sold for R. P. Smith to W. A. Bradley a lot on Brand boulevard, adjoining A. W. Collins, and a fine residence will be erected thereon in the near future.

Alfred Randolph, accompanied by Christ. Horn, a recent arrival in Tropico, departed by steamer Tuesday for Coos Bay, Ore., in the interests of their timber industry.

Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Bear and children, accompanied by their brother, Dr. E. W. Bear of St. Louis, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Bear at Burbank the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bradley of the Bradley cafe have returned to their cottage on Tropico avenue. They have a large number of high-grade Belgian hares in their yard.

Rev. D. M. Stuart and Dr. Garmon represented the Tropico Presbyterian Church at the meeting of the Los Angeles Presbytery in the Immanuel Church, Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Abram Libby, who have been the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Graves the past four months, left for their home at Dover, Minn., the latter part of the week.

Dr. and Mrs. James Sinclair of Colorado Springs, Mrs. Frank Whalen of Des Moines and Mrs. Eliza Moore of Los Angeles were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Ayres the past week.

Dr. Gorman has bought a lot on Reposia Court, which with adjoining property will be used for the propagation and display of valuable plants and trees especially adapted to this locality.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Richardson, accompanied by their brother, B. W. Richardson, of Chicago, were in attendance at the grand concert given by the Ellis Club, in Los Angeles, Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. David H. Imler of "Palm Villa" entertained as their guests the past week Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ormsby and Miss Eva Ormsby of Colorado Springs, Colo., and Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Burr of Los Angeles.

Dr. E. W. Bear of St. Louis, who has been spending the past month as the house guest of his brother and family, F. R. Bear, at "Ursa Lair," leaves the first of the week for his home, visiting en route at San Francisco, Portland and in Canada.

Mrs. M. G. Kilmer, who has been spending the winter as the house guest of her son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Kilmer, departs for New York the first of the week, where she will sail for London, Eng., to visit a daughter who resides there.

At the Epworth League social held at the residence of Mrs. Marvin Connelly, Wednesday evening, twelve new members were added to the roll. The League, like the Sabbath school of the First M. E. church, is growing rapidly, having doubled its membership during the past six months.

Miss Eula Richardson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Richardson, who with Miss Alta Stone are attending Stanford University, writes that she spent the holiday week of that institution at Oakland, the guest of her aunt, Mrs. W. Olsen, while Miss Stone spent the week in athletic sports and driving.

Little Miss Clara Shultz celebrated her eighth birthday anniversary at her home on Cypress street, Thursday afternoon. Just at the close of school, Clara's little playmates began arriving, and ere long the lawn at the Shultz residence teemed with lads and lassies, who each endeavored to render Clara's anniversary a most pleasant one. At the close of a number of childish games, Clara invited her litle guests to a table laden with those refreshments that children enjoy so much.

AYRES AND MOSER NUPTIALS.

When twilight had dropped the curtain of night and pinned it with a star, the mellow lights under daintily tinted shades lent a pretty glow to the interior of the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Ayres of Park and Central avenues Wednesday evening, when the marriage of their only daughter, Miss Mildred Ayres, and Charles Edwin Moser was solemnized. Under the skilful and artistic touch of Miss Alice Dewey of Pasadena, a lifelong friend of the bride, the entire residence was transformed into fairyland. The decorations in the large hall were clusters of the richly tinted American Beauty roses, lifting their graceful heads above a pretty arrangement of smilax. The drawing room was a bower of bloom and fragrance in the generous and pretty arrangement of quantities of the chaste La Marque rose. Long branches of this rose, with its beautiful snowy petals, were festooned from the draperies and furnishings of the room. A pretty canopy of smilax and fronds of the date palm occupied one corner of the room, under which the bride and groom stood while plighting their vows.

The dining room was redolent with the perfume of pink roses, while the graceful plumosus added to the beauty of the arrangement. One of the upper rooms, where the display of the large number of beautiful wedding presents was arranged, was prettily decorated in white roses and smilax.

Just as the clock chimed 8:30 a hush was observed in the merry conversation of the guests assembled, and faintly in the distance could be heard the sweet, low notes of "Lohengrin." Clearer and nearer drew the strain, then, from the prettily entwined stairway, six graceful young ladies—Miss Alice Dewey, Miss Harriet Meyers, Miss Carrie Botts, Miss Ida Meyers, Miss Frances Erskine and Miss Maude Moore—in dainty white gowns, each bearing a long-stemmed rose and streamers of broad tulle, approached and slowly wended their way into the drawing room and paused beneath the pretty green bower.

All then awaited the approach of the fair young bride, who advanced slowly down the stairway, leaning on the arm of the groom.

Following the bridal pair, and playing on her sweet-toned violin, came Mrs. Edgar Stuart Ayres, sister of the bride. It was truly a beautiful picture as Mrs. Ayres paused on the steps and rendered the last strains of "Lohengrin, as the high contracting parties slowly approached where Rev. D. M. Stuart, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Tropico, stood and awaited them, and where they received the words that pronounced them man and wife.

A reception followed the ceremony. In the receiving line with the bride and groom were Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Ayres, Mrs. David H. Imler, Mrs. James Sinclair of Colorado Springs, Colo.

A wedding supper followed the reception, which was served at the bridal table in its pretty decorations of pink carnations and feathery sprays of plumosus.

The bride wore a gown of white lace with trimmings of Valenciennes lace; a necklace of pearls was her only ornament. A long tulle veil, fastened with a cluster of orange blossoms, completed the pretty, dainty wedding gown. She carried a shower bouquet of Cecil Bruner roses.

Mrs. Samuel Ayres, mother of the bride, was handsomely gowned in black silk with garniture of guipure lace. Mrs. James Sinclair wore a pretty gown of black silk with trimmings of white satin and black lace. Mrs. David Imler was gowned in cream silk with trimmings of cream lace applique.

Mrs. Edgar Stuart Ayres wore a gown of pink brocade satin with lace trimmings. Mrs. Nelson Ayres was gowned in white Swiss elaborately trimmed in white lace.

Mrs. N. C. Burch wore a handsome gown of black silk with black lace trimmings. Mrs. Frank Whalen of Des Moines, Iowa, wore an evening gown of white broadcloth. Mrs. Eliza Moore of Los Angeles, a gown of gray etamine with lace trimmings.

Just when Mr. and Mrs. Moser quietly retired from the marriage feast no one seemed to know, but as the evening advanced their absence was noted. It was whispered that they had departed on a wedding trip, but just where no one seemed to know, but all are aware of the fact that Mr. Moser has erected a pretty bungalow and furnished it completely on Tenth street, to which he and his bride will go.

The wedding party included Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Ayres, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Stuart Ayres, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Ayres, Marion Banker, Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Burch, Miss Maude Burch, Rev. and Mrs. D. M. Stuart, Mr. and Mrs. James Sinclair, Mrs. Frank Whalen, Mrs. Eliza Moore, Mr. and Mrs. David H. Imler, Miss Alice Dewey, Miss Harriet Meyers, Miss Carrie Botts, Miss Ida Meyers, Miss Frances Erskine, Miss Maude Moore.

The wedding guests were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Moser, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Banker, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Woodberry, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bullis, Mr. and Mrs. Irvine Daugham, Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Marsh, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Baugham, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Wilkinson, Mr. and Mrs. R. Milliard, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dewey, Miss Rachel Sherer, Miss Millie Heald, Miss Etta Barber, Miss Mable Patterson, Miss Dot Moser, Miss Mary Doyle, Miss Ruth Byram, Miss Cora Hickman, Miss Sara Thomas, Miss Maria Baugham, Miss Harriet Dow, Miss Irene Baugham, Miss Alice Thomas, Miss Eliza Rich, Miss Mary Johnson, Mrs. C. C. Johnson-Westminster, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Burch, Dr. R. E. Chase, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ayers, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Kramer, J. C. Sherer, Mr. and Mrs. R. Train of Exeter, Colo.

DR. E. B. WESTON DINED.

Mr. and Mrs. William Harvey, Jr., entertained with an elaborate course dinner at the pretty bungalow on Tropico avenue Sunday, complimentary to Dr. E. B. Weston, a prominent physician of Chicago, who is the house guest of his daughter, Mrs. John Seaman. The table decorations consisted of a graceful arrangement of the richly hued American Beauty roses, which grow abundantly in Mrs. Harvey's pretty rose garden. Covers were laid for Dr. Weston, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Sellers of Chicago, who are spending the season at the Hotel Green, Pasadena; Miss M. E. Weston of Chicago, who is the house guest of Mrs. Seaman; Mr. and Mrs. John Seaman, Miss Kathryn Seaman, Ed. H. Weston, H. Clay Seaman, Charles Soule, Eloise, Jeanette and Joseph Seaman. The last three guests are the interesting grandchildren of Dr. Weston, also of the host and hostess.

ALBERT ENOCK SURPRISED.

Surprise parties seem to be the vogue in Tropico, as a number have been given recently, but none that has proven a more complete surprise than the one given on Albert Enock, at his home on Brand boulevard Monday evening of last week.

Mrs. Enock had very pretty decorations arranged most effectively throughout the home. After a number of amusing games dainty refreshments were served. The merrymakers consisted of Misses Lora Shea, Terza Snell, Phebe Snell, Elsie Vance, Blanche Shea, Katherine Snell, Katherine Hobbs, Stella Miller; Messrs. Paul Miller, Harry Hayward, Cloyce McCarroll, Roland Brett, Guy Buttrick, Herbert McCarroll, Fred Spear and Rex Rhodes.

C. C. Rittenhouse and family have moved into their home on Tropico avenue, recently bought of C. F. Compton.

Mr. and Mrs. Rose of Hastings, Neb., old friends of Dr. and Mrs. Gorman, have moved to Tropico. Their daughter, who is with them, will attend the High School. Mrs. Rose finds her health greatly improved since coming to Tropico, and as a consequence appreciates our climate.

MRS. HOUGH ENTERTAINS.

The beautiful villa of Mrs. William Arthur Hough, on Central avenue, was a bower of beauty and fragrance Wednesday afternoon, when Mrs. Hough entertained a coterie of Los Angeles and Tropico friends with a china shower, complimentary to Miss Emma Frieseke, whose approaching marriage to Mr. William F. Council, Mrs. Hough's brother, gave a pretty motif for thus entertaining this charming bride-to-be.

The drawing rooms were redolent with the perfume of orange blossoms and La Marque roses. Peeping shyly from the floral arrangement were clusters of tiny white wedding bells, while from the center of the living room a large wedding bell surrounded by smilax was suspended.

An amusing and merry game of progressive peanuts was enjoyed, in which Miss Frieseke was awarded the consolation prize, which proved to be a plain white card, attached to a jaunty bow of ribbon. Upon removing the card Miss Frieseke was instructed to follow the windings of the long ribbon streams, which led to the dining room. When she crossed the threshold she halted in wonder, for there she beheld the massive dining table richly spread with an elaborate lace center piece, upon which was a beautiful display of dainty pieces of china, surrounding an exquisite, prettily decorated dinner set. Gay wedding bells and pretty roses were gracefully arranged throughout the room, while a large wedding bell of marguerites, with a clapper of white roses, was suspended from the center of the room. Dainty streamers of pink and white ribbon were attached to the bell and radiated to the china display, at the end of which was attached the card of each donor.

Miss Anna Augspurger rendered a number of musical selections and Mrs. John Hobbs sang a love song.

A buffet luncheon was served, at which a number of toasts were given.

Mrs. B. Anderson of Los Angeles, sister of Mrs. Hough, presided at the punch bowl. Mrs. Hough was assisted by Mrs. Clyde Carmack, Mrs. John Hobbs and her pretty young daughter, Miss Mable Evans.

The guests who enjoyed the hospitality of the charming hostess were Mrs. Robert H. Given, Mrs. O. M. Connell, Mrs. R. M. Dutcher, Mrs. T. M. Swift, Mrs. Herman Frieseke, Mrs. B. Anderson, Mrs. L. C. Carrell, Mrs. R. S. Todd, Miss Overfelt, Miss Gay Carrell and Miss Edna Hughes of Los Angeles; Mrs. Clyde Frost of San Jose, Mrs. David H. Imler, Mrs. Clyde Carmack, Mrs. W. A. Thompson, Mrs. Joseph Webster, Mrs. John Hobbs, Mrs. W. H. Bullis, Mrs. Charles Murray, Mrs. Marvin Connelly, Mrs. Morris Schick, Mrs. L. C. Parmentier, Mrs. Andrew Stephenson, Miss Anna Augspurger and Miss Cora Hickman.

No Charivari

Most favorable comment followed the wedding of Miss Mildred Ayres and Mr. Charles E. Moser, Wednesday evening, on the absence of that old form of coarse, undignified conduct generally termed a charivari. Tropico is to be congratulated on having eliminated that kind of hoodlumism from its youth.
